DIED

Carson City Daily Appeal, June 8, 1870

In Carson City, on Tuesday, June 7, 1870, of typhoid fever, MARCUS M. HAYNIE, a native of Fairfield County, Ohio, aged 29 years.

The deceased was known as Lieutenant Haynie, having earned that title by honorable service in the Union Army, in which he served from August 1861, until the close of the war. He and his brother, Captain Haynie, well known here, came to Nevada some four years since. Charley Clarke came with them. Poor Charley died of pneumonia in White Pine. All these three marched with Sherman from Atlanta to Savannah, and served together in many battles. The deceased was an unobtrusive gentleman, respect by his acquaintances and beloved by his friends. The respects due to a dead soldier are due to him. He will be buried at 1 o'clock today from the Episcopal Church.

Carson Daily Appeal, June 9, 1870

The funeral of Lieutenant Haynie took place yesterday from the Episcopal church. After some services there the concluding ceremonies were held at the grave. The members of Stanton Post, G. A. R., were present and a considerable gather of friends and acquaintances of the deceased.
