Death of Joe Carpenter

Morning Appeal, June 15, 1898

Joe Carpenter, a teamster, well known in this city and a pensioner of the Civil War, died yesterday at the breakfast table. He was one of Carson's oldest citizens and much thought of here. The funeral will take place to-day at 2 o'clock.

Burial Of Joe Carpenter

Morning Appeal, June 16, 1898

Yesterday, the late Joseph Carpenter was buried from Mrs. Neilsen's home. He was a soldier of the Republic and was borne to his grave with a large American flag draping his coffin.

The funeral brought together many of his old friends and comrades. The Rev Davis made an address over his grave and read the burial ritual of the Episcopal Church. The following were pall bearers:

Barney Brule, John Ciley, G. R. Bradley, James Spurgeon, Wm. Smith And John McCrimmon.
