Death of Alonzo Parker

The Morning Appeal, Thursday, January 12, 1893

Yesterday the intelligence reached the city of the death of Alonzo Parker, bookkeeper of the U. S. Mint, of this city. He died in San Francisco of Bright's disease. He has lived in Carson for fifteen years during most of which time he has been connected with the Mint service. He was a leading member of the G. A. R. and saw hard service in the Rebellion, being present at many notable engagements and suffering severe wounds. He came out of the war as a captain with the with the rank of Brevet Colonel. He was a faithful, reliable man in the field as well as the Mint service and left many warm friends in this city to regret his death. He was a native of Mass., 51 years of age and leaves a widow. His remains will be brought to this city and he will be buried under the auspices of Custer Post.
