

Item # 8A

City of Carson City
Agenda Report

Date Submitted: August 10, 2010

Agenda Date Requested: August 19, 2010
Time Requested: 5 mins

To: Board of Supervisors

From: Stacey Giomi (Fire), Gary Dunn (Fire) and Robert Fellows (Public Works)

Subject Title: Presentation of two StormReady signs to Carson City for becoming a StormReady Community by Rhett Milne from the National Weather Service.

Staff Summary: StormReady communities are better prepared to save lives from natural disasters through advanced planning, education, and awareness. The StormReady Program is run by NOAA-National Weather Service and recognizes cities and counties that have gone above and beyond in preparing for natural disasters. Numerous criteria are required to be met in order to receive the recognition, including having numerous ways to receive and disseminate critical life saving weather and emergency information. In addition, Carson City has been proactive in educating and preparing citizens of the community for natural disasters.
