Comments on connection fee increase from John Uhart.

Hi Brad,

I cannot be at the meeting on Thursday, because of prior obligations, but let this email be submitted as my opposition to any increase at this time for water and sewer hookup fees. It is vital that we promote economic growth in Carson City. Builders and developers are looking at Carson currently because of the lower fees. We need to capture this audience now!!! There seems to be a huge awakening of positive reaction and vitality from the general public, business owners, politicians and the media of the recent news of Tesla, Switch, Ghost, Clear Capital and Nutrient Foods.

Carson City has always implemented that developers pay their share, if not all of the costs of infrastructure and or replacement of existing improvements (if not up to standards) for any new development within its jurisdiction. Please do not increase sewer and water hook up fees YET. As a community we are just inching our way out of an economic crisis we have endured for years. I believe the City has funds available to sustain the fee structure that currently is in place.
