Background/Issues & Analysis

Each year, the American Public Works Association (APWA) recognizes the most outstanding projects in Nevada. There were several applications for each project category this year: Environmental, Structures, and Transportation. The Carson City Water Resource Recovery Facility won the American Public Works Association (APWA) Project of the Year (POTY) Award in the Environmental Category. The POTY Award was based on several different categories including, Cost, Schedule, Service to the Public and delivery system. The project was under budget, 9 months ahead of schedule and provides the Citizens of Carson with years of uninterrupted service. Members from APWA will officially present the award to the Carson City Board of Supervisors and City staff.
