Questions

Carson City Health and Human Services Report Carson City Board of Health Meeting December 2, 2021

COVID Testing and Vaccination

- Vaccination events continue to be offered throughout the Quad-Counties region. Vaccinations include booster shots for Pfizer and Moderna as well as pediatric Pfizer doses. There has been an increase in vaccinations during the last 4 weeks due to booster shots being approved, pediatric vaccines being approved, and employer mandates going into effect. CCHHS continues to offer opportunities, not to mandate vaccines.
- CCHHS is no longer using the National Guard to assist with community-based events. All community-based vaccination events offered in the Quad-Counties region are done so with CCHHS staff from the Public Health Preparedness program.
- CCHHS serves as a regional distributor for vaccines to healthcare providers registered with Nevada State Immunization Program. This allows providers to acquire smaller quantities of vaccine from CCHHS and to not have large amounts of vaccine waste. Health entities requesting through CCHHS include local provider offices as well as worksite health programs.
- Community-based testing and testing at CCHHS will be suspended at the end of November due to a lack of demand. There are several entities within the community that offer testing and these entities have a much higher testing demand than CCHHS. If there is an increased demand for testing in the community due to a new variant or increase in cases, CCHHS will evaluate offering symptomatic testing services again.
- CCHHS is recruiting local community partners to get signed up as a testing location through the State of Nevada. Once signed up, these community partners can offer free testing and analyses to the Community. This is available because Carson City's social vulnerability index value puts Carson at a level that allows the federal government to pay for these testing services. There are 2-3 providers who will begin offering testing sometime in January 2022.
- The Quad-Counties COVID Hotline helps individuals get connected with testing services in the area including the Community Health Nurse's Offices and local pharmacies. Additionally, the Hotline helps community members locate vaccine locations if the community member is unable to attend one of the community events or get to CCHHS for services.
- CCHHS continues to collaborate with Immunize NV to saturate the community with vaccination opportunities.
- CCHHS is serving the homebound and jail populations throughout the Quad-Counties region and works closely with employers and healthcare partners to offer vaccination events.

TB testing is included in the services provided at the clinic as well as an inpatient drug treatment center.

Adolescent Health Education

- In September 2021, two Sexual Risk Avoidance Education (SRAE) classes were conducted - One class at the Carson City Community Center with 2 students; and Virginia City Middle School with 18 students.
- In October 2021, one Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP) class was conducted at Western NV Rural Youth Center – 7 individuals attended.
- Staff are seeking training and updated materials to be able to offer Families Talking Together Training, dates are still to be determined. Families Talking Together is a parent-based intervention to prevent and/or reduce sexual risk behavior among adolescents. The main components of the intervention are parent discussions with an interventionist and a family workbook designed to teach parents effective communication skills, build parent-adolescent relationships, help parents develop successful monitoring strategies, and teach adolescents assertiveness and refusal skills. The program can be delivered to parents either individually or in small group sessions, in a range of settings.

*Both the SRAE and PREP courses consist of 8 one-hour modules. The classes facilitated at the youth correction facilities see youth transitioning in and out of the facilities. They may be able to go home during the time we are facilitating the course or are entering the facility during our time with them. Hence, the fluctuation in the numbers at the facilities.

Chronic Disease Division Quality Improvement (QI) project – Branding and Video

Chronic Disease Prevention & Health Promotion (CDPHP) Division's programs have identified a barrier with how services are promoted and offered as part of CCHHS due to COVID. The goal of this project is to gain recognition for the Division which will allow programs within the division to be highlighted.

- A logo was developed for identification.

- The design was pulled from the CCHHS' logo with the mountain design, triangles were used to represent mountains but also to represent a modular vision of each division connected in similar shape but differentiated in colors.
- The Chronic Disease Prevention & Health Promotion (CDPHP) Division selected a logo that was green to grey scale, with CCHHS identified at the top and programs within the CDPHP Division listed at the bottom (tobacco, adolescent health, diabetes, and Ryan White program). This offers more immediate recognition through the connection to CCHHS at the top and requires less branding awareness and promotion on behalf of CDPHP division.
- It's a new combined logo which is important for identification and to communicate to the public the identity of the CDPHP Division as a collective group.

- An animated outreach video was developed to highlight CDPHPs’ four programs: Tobacco, Adolescent Health, Diabetes and Ryan White Program. The video has currently been disseminated through the CCHHS CDPHP webpage, CCHHS lobby and social media (Facebook and YouTube). Video length is about 2 minutes.
 - Dissemination plan is being developed

 - Watch time: 7.5 hours; Views: 201; Organic Reach: 4500
